Winthrop Installs New Art Sculptures Downtown

Last month, thirteen of Winthrop University's sculpture students installed six new works of art in Old Town's Main Street Sculpture Gallery at the corner of

E. Main Street and Dave Lyle Boulevard. The new works replaced the majority of the ones that were installed there a year ago.

Main Street Sculpture Gallery's newest works of art.

The works were created by students in a class taught by Shaun Cassidy, Associate Professor of Fine Arts. Seeing the products of their hard work on display for the entire community to enjoy instills in them a sense of satisfaction and accomplishment.

The Main Street Sculpture Gallery is a project of Rock Hill Economic Development Corporation, Old Town Association, Arts Council of York County, City of Rock Hill, ACE Projects at Winthrop, and Winthrop's Department of Fine Arts, College of Visual and Performing Arts.
