Courtroom at Gettys Musical Performances

March 6, Doors open 9pm; $5 Cover

The Courtroom welcomes back professional rockers, Junior Astronomers. This quartet is as emotional as they are explosive. Their lyrics and tones penetrate your heart, travel all the way down to your toes and get your body moving from the inside out. Joining along on this journey is Charlotte's freshest indie pop project Aggrocragg, led by Lamont Brown. He just released the debut EP, "figi afterglow", in late January and these tracks are already making waves. Local support includes Gardeners and White Elvis, the best indie music Rock Hill has to offer.

March 21, Doors open 9pm; $5 Cover

Release the Dog, from Columbia SC, introduces their own brand of catchy indie rock. Bright guitar tones, angular melodies, and direct vocals are the tools they use to build their sound. If solid songwriting is what you're looking for Release the Dog has everything you need. Supporting acts include Secret Hospital from Charlotte, and local garage rock bands, Legggs and Mr. Gold.
